

To Be Signed By Each Instructor Prior to Teaching an In-Person Homebuyer Education Seminars sponsored by the Washington State Housing Finance Commission

DISCLAIMER

COVID-19 is highly contagious and is spread easily from person-to-person. Consistent with State guidance, Washington State Housing Finance Commission highly recommends instructors put in place preventative measures to reduce the spread of COVID-19 in its homebuyer education classes. Despite these measures, the Commission cannot guarantee that participants, instructors, or others in attendance will not be exposed to, contract, or spread COVID-19. By choosing to participate in person, instructors, guests, and attendees assume all risks and dangers from exposure to COVID-19 associated with attending a Commission sponsored homebuyer education class.

Instructors must provide proof of vaccination to the Commission prior to resuming in-person classes and are required to advise the Commission what protocols they intend to use for their class (i.e., required masking, proof of vaccination, etc.) Protocol choices are up to the individual instructor, but must be communicated to the Commission. The Commission will post the class protocols on its website.

The Commission highly recommends that instructors follow the Washington State Governor's website <https://www.governor.wa.gov/issues/issues/covid-19-resources> to see if things have changed.

COVID issues can be fluid and instructors need to follow the most restrictive mandate by the Washington State Governor's office.
