2026 RFP – Housing WA conference

Q&A

Yes, and is managed by our contractors and conference project manager.

9) What is the typical number of concurrent breakout sessions or tracks?

7 tracks (two for Homelessness) with 49 sessions total.

10) Will the selected contractor be expected to provide strategic input on program development beyond logistics?

Yes. The contractor will be responsible for leading a Steering Committee to plan plenaries and provide guidance and support to Track Teams for session development and programming.

11) Are there any continuing education credits offered? If so, for which professions?

Yes, for the Homelessness track. The people who earn them are service providers such as case managers through the Washington Low Income Housing Alliance.

12) Can you provide a sample agenda from a recent conference (by day)?

<https://www.housingwa.org/2026-program>

13) Is 3 days the full conference program, including pre- or post-events?

3 days is in-person programming. The Homelessness track will offer virtual programming post-conference.

14) Can you confirm the off-site events, networking receptions, or partner-hosted events?

See the program here: <https://www.housingwa.org/2026-program>

Off-site events/partner hosted events are typically coordinated not to run during conference hours and are not managed by our contractors or project manager.

2026 RFP – Housing WA conference

Q&A

These events can be posted as optional in the conference App (WHOVA) community board.

15) What marketing assets will be provided (e.g., logos, branding guidelines, past photography/video)?

Logos, branding guidelines, conference photos, and an archive of past marketing campaigns.

16) What marketing platforms or CRM/email systems are currently in use?

WHOVA for past and present registered attendees. Uncertain what platform is being used by contractors for email marketing.

17) What social media accounts are actively used for the conference?

Facebook and LinkedIn.

18) Does the Commission maintain a marketing database? If so:

a) Types of audiences included (past attendees, partners, broader industry lists)

Our contractors maintain and manage marketing and data. Audiences include all mentioned above.

19) Can you confirm whether Whova is used solely as the event mobile app, or if it is also being used for attendee registration?

WHOVA is the conference App and registration system.

20) If registration is managed separately from Whova, what registration platform has been used for the conference?

Not applicable.

21) Have you contracted a general service contractor/decorator in the past?

2026 RFP – Housing WA conference

Q&A

Our conference contractor often hires sub-contractors to fulfill many logistical aspects of the conference.

22) Have conference materials been historically printed, provided digitally, or both?

Both.

23) Is there a volunteer program associated with the conference?

a) If so, what is the expected number of volunteers?

No, though Commission staff are involved in some aspects of staffing the conference. All other workers are hired by the contractor.

24) Beyond the Whova app, are there additional event technology tools you are contracted with (e.g., virtual/hybrid platforms, engagement tools)?

Smartsheet for project management. Wix.com for conference website.

25) Are there expectations for session recording or on-demand content delivery?

We typically record and publish sessions and not plenaries.

26) What is the process of speaker selection?

The planning committee is made up of representatives from the Commission, Department of Commerce, and the Washington Low Income Housing Alliance. Members of the committee recommend speakers, and we also solicit submissions.

27) Who is responsible for securing sponsorships?

The planning contractor handles the solicitation of sponsors. An effort is made to retain existing sponsors and solicit new sponsors.

2026 RFP – Housing WA conference

Q&A

30) How often does the planning team meet during the planning cycle?

Between roughly January and when the program is finalized around April, meetings with the steering committee are bimonthly. Commission staff in charge of the conference are in more frequent contact with the planning contractors and may meet weekly and as needed as the conference approaches.

31) How many people serve on the planning committee (outside of the conference management firm)?

The steering committee includes 10-15 members – mostly Housing Finance Commission staff, plus three each from the Department of Commerce and the Washington Low Income Housing Alliance. Additional subject matter experts may participate on an ad hoc basis.

32) How much money or how many scholarships are in the scholarship program?

Housing Washington awards approximately 40-50 scholarships that cover registration, flights, and hotel costs for those who cannot afford to pay. $1200 per person.

33) Do you anticipate the 2026 conference to have a similar agenda, receptions, and special events as the 2025 conference?

Yes, the format has been consistent over the years, but we are open to changes to maintain relevancy.

34) Do you anticipate the conference growing in the next 2-3 years?

Yes, we expect there may be growth.

35) A question regarding Section II F – Service Costs of the RFP: What is the maximum dollar amount?

2026 RFP – Housing WA conference

Q&A

The Commission will not dictate the maximum dollar amount but are asking respondents to include that information in their submission.

36) Who is the current contractor?

Engstrom Public Relations

37) Is this RFP issued due to a required mandate and is it for two years only?

Yes to both questions. However, we are encouraging contractors to submit their proposals! Additionally, while the contract is for two years we have the option to extend that for another two years.

38) Will there be multiple contractors and contracts?

No. However, the consultant can engage subcontractors for the project.

39) What portion of the budget does the Commission provide?

- The Commission contributes $100K to the conference
- The Dept. of Commerce contributes $35K to the conference
- The Housing Alliance contributes $50K to the conference

40) What is the expectation of how the consultant will find subcontractors? Does the Commission provide leads, or is this to be done by the consultant?

Generally, the consultant contracts with their own preferred vendors. The Commission can provide leads but is always open to new contractors.

41) How long has our current consultant been working with the Commission?

A: Over 20 years but please do not let this dissuade you from submitting a proposal. The conference has evolved a great deal over the years, and the Commission is always open to new ways of functioning.
